Overfall

The turbulence we saw last week continues to intensify in several localized areas of constraint. This week we observed that the ability of legacy governments to continue asserting legitimacy has now become inundated by public distrust. Financial instability has now morphed into daily chaos and volatility. And the culture of fear that drives war is once again boiling to the surface. Those who proffer the status quo are seen struggling to navigate these powerful currents, which inevitably flow towards collapse. Most importantly, this emergent overfall has produced no evidence of resolution.

Momentum

This report is based upon observations by the command of s/v Nüwa. We are currently anchored in quietude beyond the fray. From this stable vantage point, one thing is abundantly clear. Performative offerings backed by low levels of commitment by false authority are not going to be able to transit this turbulent passage successfully. What has been exposed by awakened human consciousness cannot be unseen. In terms of momentum, this means the clash of incoming energies with the outflow of legacy culture will result in a great loss to those who try to swim against the current. The classical literature presents a timeframe ending in 2030 in which such loss will be witnessed writ large. Based on our most recent observations, we have mapped the trajectory: systemic collapse is highly likely in the next two years.<sup>1</sup>

Contagion

Recent upticks in solar activity and geophysical instability mirror the instability of legacy consciousness at a systemic level.<sup>2</sup> We affirm this trend to be consistent with prior forecasts by specialists regarding the inevitability of natural cataclysms – one of which may powerful enough to destroy the status quo by 2030. Society and the individual will then be free to apply human potential in new ways that are right now imaginable to many. The timing and manner in which such an event might unfold is dependent in part upon the energies we are choosing to embrace within the current overfall. We affirm: the exercise of freewill is causal. We discuss this dynamic in a report titled Red Horse, Red Goat.

This was the **strongest solar radiation storm since 2003**, reaching **S4** on NOAA's scale — an extremely rare level. It coincided with a G4 geomagnetic storm and produced low-latitude auroras worldwide.

1.18–20.2026 — X-class Flare + Fast CME ( $\approx 1700$  km/s) Triggering G4 Storm

A powerful **X-class flare** on Jan 18 launched a **high-speed CME** that struck Earth on Jan 19, producing a **G4 severe geomagnetic storm** and the red-aurora event documented over Ladakh. This was one of the strongest geomagnetic disturbances of early 2026.

2.1–2.2026 — X8.1 Solar Flare

NASA recorded a sequence of major flares on Feb 1–2, including an **X8.1 flare**, the most powerful flare of 2026 to date. While not as geoeffective as the January radiation storm, its intrinsic flare energy was the highest measured.

1.10.2026 — Kepulauan Talaud, Indonesia — Mw 6.5 (Ring of Fire)

This is the strongest earthquake recorded anywhere in 2026 so far, reaching magnitude 6.5.

1.7.2026 — Mindanao, Philippines — Mw 6.4 (Ring of Fire)

A powerful offshore event near Davao, part of an ongoing aftershock sequence from the 2025 Davao Oriental earthquakes.

1.13.2026 — Kuril Islands — Mw 6.3 (Ring of Fire)

A high-energy subduction-zone quake in one of the world's most seismically active arcs.
